
The Club at Briarcliff Manor, a new $300-million fee-for-service Continuing Care Retirement Community (CCRC) under development at the former King's College property in Briarcliff Manor, has announced that Dee DeIBello, owner and chief executive officer of Westfair Communications Inc., and Douglas Ruttenberg, founding partner of Eisman, Zucker, Klein & Ruttenberg, LLP (EZKR), have joined The Club at Briarcliff Manor's newly formed Advisory Board.

DeIBello, whose publishing firm is headquartered in White Plains, serves as the publisher of the Westchester County Business Journal, Fairfield County Business Journal, Hudson Valley Business and Westchester Generations. A graduate of The College of New Rochelle, DeIBello also holds a master's degree from Seton Hall University. Presently she serves on the advisory boards of The Women's Business Development Center, Service Corps of Retired Executives (SCORE) and is a member of The National Association for Female Executives. She is a resident of Waccabuc.

Ruttenberg, who is head of EZKR's Tax Department, is a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the New York State Society of Certified Public Accountants where he serves on the Partnerships and LLCs Committee. He is a resident of White Plains.

The Club at Briarcliff Manor will feature 325 Independent Living residences, world-class amenities and services and a 60-unit Supportive Living Center where a licensed and professional staff will provide assisted living, memory support and skilled nursing care on-site 24 hours a day.