

REAL ESTATE IN-DEPTH NOVEMBER 2009

The Club at Briarcliff Manor, a new $300 million fee-for-service Continuing Care Retirement Community (CCRC) under development at the former King's College property in Briarcliff Manor, has announced that attorney Steven Schurkman and Carol Greenberg, president/CEO of Concept: CARE Inc., have joined The Club at Briarcliff Manor's newly formed Advisory Board.

Schurkman, who is a partner in the law firm of Keane & Beane, P.C., has more than 25 years experience practicing law, focused in the areas of estate planning, probate, elder law, real estate and commercial transactions. The Scarsdale resident is currently the chair of the Board of the Westchester Public/Private Partnership for Aging Services, Inc., a not-for-profit entity consisting of a coalition between Westchester County and its resident corporations to provide services for seniors to remain independent and active members of their communities.

Greenberg is co-founder of Concept: CARE Inc. of White Plains, which is a licensed home health care agency servicing a broad spectrum of clients in Westchester County and the Bronx. She has more than 30 years experience in nursing home administration, community-based programs and proprietary home health care agencies. Greenberg, a resident of White Plains, serves on the Westchester County Department of Social Services Advisory Committee and is a Board Member of the New York State Association of Health Care Providers and the Westchester Geriatric Committee.

The Club at Briarcliff Manor will feature 325 Independent Living residences, world-class amenities and services and a 60-unit Supportive Living Center where a licensed and professional staff will provide assisted living, memory support and skilled nursing care on-site 24 hours a day.
